Doug started his professional career with Farmland Industries in 1994 as an Internal Auditor. During his time there, he worked in a variety of roles within the Finance Department including corporate accounting, accounts payable, inventory accounting, accounts receivable and credit. In 2019, after a corporate consolidation, Doug opted not to relocate and instead pursue other job opportunities in Kansas City and was hired at Clemons for the Controller position.

Outside of work, Doug has been a volunteer with St. Luke's hospital on the Plaza for 15 years. He works at the Neuroscience Information Desk Saturday afternoons, helping visitors locate the patient they're visiting and answering questions about the hospital and the surrounding area.

Doug lives with his partner in a 1923 Brookside home with their two rescue dogs and two rescue cats, and has recently taken up a long-time interest in woodworking.
