

RACHEL KECK

DIRECTOR OF CULTURE & DEVELOPMENT

RACHEL@CLEMONSLIFE.COM

CLEMONS REAL ESTATE, LLC

Rachel is the Director of Culture & Development for Clemons. She drives the defining, activating, and strengthening of the internal culture as well as developing the people of Clemons and beyond. She brings a passion for experience, engagement and community.

Rachel has spent her professional life in nearly every role from project manager to founder. Straight out of college, she joined a small, woman-owned business fulfilling government contracts for trade show and event planning. She then worked with dental practices supporting owner/operators with practice management, training, hardware and software.

For the last ten years, Rachel and her husband have grown a business of their own helping leaders become more aware of themselves and others then translating that awareness to healthy workplace culture. Her experience has led to strengths in strategy, operations, people and emotional intelligence.
